2015 12 15 Enlist Duo FOIA Request.pdf

Ryan and Beth,

Here's information to address questions you had during our last meeting on clearing the FOIA backlog.

- [REDACTED] The OSCPP Office of Pesticide Programs has 13 people devoted to FOIA record reviews and responses.

- [REDACTED] OCSPP previously reported (and I shared) that one of their cases in the backlog had 140K documents and had consumed a person-year of work. Ryan asked which case that was. OCSPP has since corrected their statement. They don't have a single case with 140K documents, but they have 11 FOIA cases in litigation for which they have already reviewed 144K documents, out of a document population of 179K, and that review has consumed a person-year of effort. The largest single case in that group is EPA-HQ-2016-002106 with a document population of 106K. That is a request from the Natural Resources Defense Council for specific categories of documents related to glyphosate and 2,4-D. I have attached the full request.
